Personally, I believe the school has a spectacular spectrum of passionate teachers ready to teach you things you really will need. Increasing your positivity of going to school along with the opportunity to meet some great friends a long the way! Although my words stay positive, from my expirence in the grade level there's always the tragic event of exclusion among groups of people and at the age of being a preteen it can really take a toll on how you see the world. In any school environment you can't shield your child from seeing the truth of people get emotionally hurt by things some of these middle school kids say and this school is no different. Overall i would recommend for more social or out there people to for sure take the chance of going to this school. For kids more shy I would still recommend this school but would keep your options open if able to. Sincerely, -Student

A great school academically! Allows for great variability with classes and schedules. Socially, it is a bit attracted to cliques and can be challenging to make consistent friends.
